The Secretary of the Navy has issued the fol-lowing order: My attention has been called to the dealing of this Department with the American Wood Preserving Company, to the large sums of money paid for the use of the plate, and refigation as I have been able to make has couvinced me that a thorough examination and inrestigation of all the matters connected with the dealings of the Government with the company should be made, including an investigation into the utility of the invention, and its practical virtue. The Government is in possession of an expensive pl nt, recently purchased for use in con-section with this invention. I am unable to find that the invention has gone into general use, or that private persons are availing themselves of its supposed superior merits. I hereby designate and detail Captain Francis M. The Board recommended the regulations to be enforced on vessels coming to this country from foreign ports, as well as upon vessels carrying pessengers and treight from port to port along the coast and on rivers of the interior, and for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroad. By the adoption of these rules and regulations, the board say a uniform system will be established, and health authorities are liable to concentrate their effort in the event of an outbreak of enoiers. RIEL'S REBELLION. General Middleton Meets and Defeats a

Force of the Rebels Composed of Half Breeds and Indians. CLARK'S CROSSING, N. W. T., April 25,-General

Middleton, with his staff, was riding well to the front with Boulton's Horse, who were acting as scouts, yesterday, when about, five miles from McIntosh, where they had camped the night before, and on approaching two small bluffs covend with timber, about twenty or thirty of the enemy's scouts opened fire, killing several of the scouts' horses and wounding several of them. Between these bluffs, which were about 500 yards apart, is a piece of level and open prairie that stretches back about 1.000 yards, across which runs a deep savine with timber in the bottom. the General ordered up the advance guard of the Ninetieth under Captain Clark. Two guns of "A" Battery then came up a gallop under command of Captain Peters, the guns being supported by a garrison division under Captain Peters and feutenant Rivers. After firing a couple shrapnels at the half breeds, the latter retired into the ravine. The remainder of the Minetieth were then sent up. Major Buchanan, commanding the right battslion, and Mafor Boswell the left half of C Company, of the Infantry school of Toronto, being on the extreme right, had two or three hot scrimmages for the possession of a knoll about 500 yards in front of the ravine. Being ordered to retire from it, the knoll was taken possession of by the rebels, but the infantry drove them out While this was going on at the right, on the left a battery of the garrison division, who were supporting their guns, and a company of the Ninetieth, under Captain Forest, made a dash across the opening and gained the top of the ravine. The remainder of the forces were gradually worked up and kipt closing on the ravine. Meantime the artillery was being moved from point to point so as to obtain the most advantageous position for shelling the rebels in the ravine. They drove the rebels out of a number of houses and set a straw-stack on fire. The rebels were seen to leave then, seeling cover in the ravine, when No. 2 Company of the Minetieth Grenadiers arfived from across the river. They were tent over on the right flanks and thrown out in skirmishing order, so as to enfilled the ravine and relieve some of the troops who had been in action all day. About sixty rebels were seen to retreat on horseback, the remainder in the ravine be ing unable to do so, owing to their horses being captured or thot. Things remained unchanged up to 5 o'clock, when there could not have been more than ten men in the rifle pits in the ravine, at which time the General had the troops drawn un preparatory to making a charge and to capture the men in the pits, which was expected to clo e the engagement, as he had ordered the teams to get ready to move about bari a mile nearer the ng the course of the afternoon the remainder of

The rebels seem to be composed of about an equal number of half breeds and Indians, in all not more than 200, and are supposed to be under the command of Gabriel Dumont.

GENERAL GRANT.

Be Passed a Bather Uncomfortable Night, and Did Not Take His Usual

Carriage Ride. NEW YORK, April 25 .- General Grant gid not get settled for the night until about 1 o'clock this morning. He received five minims of morphine, and after I o'clock he slept at intervals. The sore at the base offthe tongue appeared angry last night, and restlessness may have been the result. Between 6 and 8 o'clock this morning the patient sle it most of the time, and when he aroused and his throat was examined there were more favorable indications than y, sterday. When Dr. Douglas lett, at 8:80 s. m , he said the General had passed a very quiet night, though his sleep was somewhat broken. So far as the physical condition of General Grant is concerned, he might with safety be removed to the mountains or seaside tonorrow, but no exodus will occur until the first of July. That the General will survive the summer is the belief of all those in a position to General Grant did not take his usual carriage ride to-day. He had passed an uncomfortable night, and the weather was considered too cool for him to venture out Arrangements have been completed for the renoval of General Grant and his entire family to Mount McGregor some time during the latter part of Jone. The use of the cottage of Joseph W. Drexel was tendered to General Grant this morning, and was accepted by Colonel Grant in behalf of his father. Colonel Grant said to the gentleman who had called to complete the arrangements or the General's trip that if his father continued to improve for one month longer as rapidly as he had during the past few weeks he would be stronger than he was a year ago. It is expected during his stay in the mountains. General Grant's physiciaus some time ago decided that a change to a dryer atmosphere would be beneficial; that it would be unwise for their patient to spend the warm season at the seaside. Mr. Drexell has given directions that his cottage shall be put in order for the Grant family at once. Colonel Grant says that he believes his father's changed condition was due in a great measure to the many kind and generous manifestations of public interest and regard.

Attempt to Fire a Hotel

CINCINNATI, April 25,-About 3 o'clock this morning Mrs. Hawley, a milliner, who occupies a room in the Palace Hotel Block, on Sixth and Vine streets, was a wakened by a noise resembling the pushing of a paper under her door. She called to ask if it was a telegraph messenger, but received no reply. She heard some one walk away. Her room was filled with smoke, and ou going to the door she found paper saturated with coal oil and burning against her door. Other doors on the same floor were similarly treated and the paper had not been ignited. The fire was lock extinguished without disturbing the guests of the botel, E. H. Johnson, of St. Louis, was arrested on suspicion.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN PROSPECTS.

The War Clouds Growing Darker and Darker-A Declaration May be Made Almost Any Day.

LONDON, Atril 25 .- The Emperor of Russia passed four hours yesterday with General Obrutscheff, Chief of Staff, and several engineer officers, studying war maps of the Afghan frontler. General Obrutecheff regards war as inevitable, urges immediate mobilization, and that not a moment should be lost in pushing on to Herat and Candahar. General Obrutscheff's increasing influence over the Czar is believed here to be vary significant. Obrutscheff is a man of the Skobeleff type. He is only forty-two years old, and full of energy and ambition. He said to the Czar: "Now is the moment, sire, for Russia to strike, Lumsden's retreat has utterly destroyed England's prestige among the Afghans, who, I can assure your Majesty, are ready to revolt against the Ameer. Besides, Persia is prepared secretly to nelp us, and to do so the moment we strike the first blow. All these advantages will be lost by delay.' The Czar replied: "You are too hasty, General. Russia's manifest destroy is too strong to be wrecked by any human agency, but I still hope war may be avoided. But come what will, I never shall consent to give up Penjdeh nor the Zulfikar

The above conversation took place in the Winter Palace in the room near the famous Nikolas Hali, which is now filled with small tables upon which are piled hundreds of maps, plans and railway schemes about Central Asia. The Czar is convinced that the improvised cruisers of the Alabama type and the vigorous application of torpedo warfare will transfer England's monopoly of the carrying trade to other nations.

War preparations in Moscow are being hastened on with the greatest activity, Large bodies of troops are daily leaving for the South. Heavy supplies of artillery and commissariat stores are being sent to Toganrog for transportation to Batoum and other fortified places on the Black sea. Cossacks of the Don, Kooan and Terek, altogether over $0,000 men, have received orders to hold themselves ready to move at a moment's notice. Thirty-five thousand troops have already been concentrated near Askabad. In Moscow war is eagerly hoped for. General Gourko, the Governor General of Poand, has been ordered by the Czar to prepare immediately a debarred memoir giving a plan of campaign in Alghanistan. It is believed here that General Gourke, in the event of war, will be placed in supreme command of the armies operating egainst India. There are now 70,000 Russi-n troops in Poland. Of these, 30,000 are under orders for immediate movement to Odessa. This proves that Russia has no cause to fear any hostility from Austria. The feeling among the Poles is one of utter indifference. War or no war, they are too weak to dream of revolt, and the Russian garrison can be safely reduced to 40,000 men. Dispatches from St. Petersburg, received here this efternoon, state that the Czar has issued an imperial ukese sanctioning the raising of a large force of Turkomans militia by General Komaroll. Workmen are busy night and day loading all the whitehead torpedoes in the arsenal. Orders have been given that the moment hostifities begin stationary torpedoes shall be placed outside all Russian ports on the Baltic. The fron clads Admiral Greig. Duc d'Edinburg and Kremlen, and the monitors Typhon, Satnik and Bronenos-sets have already completed their armaments and are ready for immediate action.

A dispatch to the Times from Tirpul, dated April 21, says: The excitement of the people of Afghanistan over the Penjdeh affair is subsiding, but that all are looking auxiously for a sign of deter-mined British policy. Previous to the present fine weather postar communication with India overland had been stopped for weeks, owing to heavy floods. The Russians are compelling the sarahks, of Penjdeh, who are friendly to the British, to construct military roads. A St. Petersburg special dispatch to the Standard says that negotiations continue between the Eussian and British governments. The frontier question presents no serious difficulty, but the Penjdeh affair detains the meeti g of the Boundary Commission, headed by M. Lessar, for Russia, and Sir Peter Lumsden, for Great Britain. Russia, says the dispactch, is willing to cede the Zulficar pass in return for Penjadeh. That accomplished, the Boundary Commission could probably arrange for a withdrawsl of both Russian and Afgan troops from the disputed scene. This solution of the existing difficulty, it is asserted, however, is only possible if England foregoes her claims for satisfaction from Russia for the Penjden incident. Satisfaction, continues the dispatch, Russia will It is rumored that several British men-of-war cleared of ice. The harbor of Kronstadt, however, remains ice-bound. All Russian newspapers assume that England has demanded satisfaction from Russia for the Penjdeh affalr. A Bombay dispatch says the Duke of Connaught. who had started home, has been suddenly recalled to Simla. This was due to the receipt of a telegram from England indicating that the positical outlook was extremely critical. The Earl of Dufferin, Viceroy of India, has held a prolonged mintery council. It is believed at this council it was resolved to concentrate an Indian force at Quetta immediately. A general increase in regimental officers in the Russian army has been ordered. British transports at Woolwich have been ordered to load, until otherwise instructed, all their war stores for India instead of Suakim. The government has ordered the immediate construction of forty gunboats. These new gunboats are to be, according to the Admiralty specifications, of a new type of naval architecture. They will carry light shell guns for the purpose of destroying torpedo boats, and will have a coal stowage canacity which will render them capable of steaming 1,000 miles without recoaling. In addition to the charter of the steamers already announced, the gov ernment has also chartered the steamer Energia. The Energia will be converted into an armed Madrid, April 25.-A Ruslian corvette anchored in the Port of Almeria, on the Mediterranean, in Spain, last evening, and her commander hurrledly went ashore and hunted up the Russian consul After a brief conference the commander hastened back to his ship, which at once lifted anchor and proceeded to sea with her lamps unlit. It was ascertained, too, that the commander of the cor-vett put into Almeria for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not war had yet been declared between Russia and England. He said he had run across a British man-of-war, whose conduct was so suspicious as to induce him to stop and ascertain what the situation was and what line of action on his part it would warrant. It is reported that Count Kalnoky, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has expressed the gravest fears that war will be the issue of the strained relations existing between Great British and Russia. Austrian newspapers are of the orinion that England is certain to obtain the corclusion of an alliance with Turkey in the event of war with Russia. It is s ated that the Czar started at once for Moscow to consult with the ministry regarding the Anglo Rus an question. The War Office has issued orders for a large increase in the number

The Board Considering a Claim for Extra Work-Are the Richmond Plans Defective?

The Board of Commissioners for the new Instance Hospitals were in session again yesterday, and adjourned at 2 o'clock to meet on Thursday news. Routine business was transacted, but the account part of vesterday's session was consumed by discussing a claim for extra work on the Richmond building, made in behalf of a sub-contractor and presented to the board by Mr. Campfield, the contractor of the building. It appears that in placing the foundation of a part of the building it was necessary to make the excavation about twelve inches deeper than provided for the specifications and the Superintendent of Construction, Mr. Kaufman, and the architect. Mr. Ketcham, ordered the work to be done. The board spent several hours in considering the matter, and finally adjourned without coning to any conclusion, the question being to arrive at the exact amount of extra work performed and the measure of componential the performed and the measure of compensation due

There was a rumor yesterday, after the been discovered in the plans of the Richmond building, and that the contractor had said that the work could not proceed under the present plans without eventually being changed, and that it would be better and less expensive to make the change now than to wait till the work had progressed further. A Sentibel reporter tried to find Mr. Campfield before he left the city, but in this ne failed, and the rumor could not be co The attention of three commissioners was called to it, however, and they declared that nothing of the kind had been mentior ed to them. Colonel Gray of Noblesville, said that the board had or-dered a change in one of the cottages at Richmond during its visit to that place on Thursday, but it was not done on eccount of any imperfection in the plans or in the work, and the change would not cost more than and. Speaking further, the Colonel said that "the plans and specification are perfect, and a strict adherence to them wi had." He declared that the board had the most perfect confidence in the architect and that, so far as they know, no fault whatever had been found with his work. The other two members of the board who were present indorsed the Colonel's statement. The reporter called their attention to the fact that Mr. Campfield's attorney, Ron. Frank Mat-tier, had visited the Richmond building in company with the board, and asked for what purp or in what capacity be went. They replied they did not know, but they believed he was strorney for the sub-contractor who performed the extra work in excavating for the foundation, and they supposed he might have gone for the purpose of guarding his interest. It was learned from a reliable source, however, that Mattler claims a defect in the plans, and has been employed by Contractor Campfield with the padarstanding that questions of importance will arise in carrying them out.

JOHN BRIDGES' TROUBLES. Under Cover of Night, Enemies Destroy His Property.

Sentinel Readers will remember John Bridger who was arrested last summer for assault and battery with intent to kill his brother-in-law, James Barnett, in a quarrel between the two. Atter his trial, last fall, in the Criminal Court, John moved to the city in order to send his children to sensol, where they would not be annoyed by the children of his enemies. Recently he moved back again to his farm, and has been annoyed in various ways by persons who have not the manhood to show their faces, but who perpetuate all sorts of malicious and mischevious tricks upon him under cover of the night. Among other things, Mr. Bridges prepared a hot-house on a small scale in which he was raising about 20,000 cabbage, sweet potatoes, to matoes and other plants. This has been coming on in fine shape, but when he rose yesterday morning he found that some one had broken the seah and plass coverings, and utterly runned all his plants. This is setting monotopous, and it is highly probable that the next row in that neighborhood will be a serious one, that it will result in some one going to prison, and that it will come off at an early date.
